BIG WEEKEND COMING

Doings In And Out Of County To Draw Crowds

With the Fourth of July coming on Friday this year most of the persons in Medina County are planning on making it a big three day weekend, according to a cursory census among Hondo folks and other county people found in the streets and stores of Hondo.

While the great majority will occupy themselves and their families with private parties, picnics and fishing trips, there remain a number of attractions around the county, inside and close in outside, for those who still have nothing planned.

In Medina County the big event for sport fans is the All-Star game to be played in the afternoon at Castroville. There the baseballers of Hondo, Utopia and D'Hanis combine into the "West All-Stars" to play the "East All-Stars" which will include Castroville, LaCoste, Quihi and Rio Medina. Game time is 3 p.m.

Two big rodeos are scheduled outside the county limits but near enough to be easily available. The Groff brothers of around Quihi will be in the R. C. A. rodeo at Bandera where a full day of fun can be promised to all. At Sabin the American Legion is sponsoring another R. C. A. rodeo with barbecue and entertainment which is earmarked to be the best yet in that town.

Only public barbecue reported to The Anvil Herald office on the Fourth is that sponsored by the Ladies Aid of Zion's Lutheran church which will be held at Wernette's at Castroville. Barbecue refreshments and entertainment will be available all day.

In Hondo, the swimming pool will be open all three days of the weekend offering an athletic weekend to water fanciers.

Also in Hondo, latest reports indicate that a number of service establishments will be open all three days. Gas and oil service stations which will be open include Tony Taylor's O. S. T., O. L. Moss, Wernette's and Pichots, with a mechanic on duty at the last named place.

Most Hondo business houses will be closed on Friday, July 4 and 5, according to last minute reports. Thursday, July 3, is expected to be a big day in the grocery business, since no more food will be on sale until July 7, more than half a week away. G & M has moved up the usual date of their weekend sale to Thursday, July 3, and other stores are believed to be well stocked for the rush.

Folks who want to dine out will have no trouble, since most of the restaurants plan to remain open. The Oasis, Talley's Drive Inn, The Favorite and O'Neill's are planning to remain open both July 4 and 5, according to present plans.

A late report from Dunlay tells us the L. A. Haby store there will be open Saturday if shoppers become desperate for forgotten vittles and supplies.

AWOL's Wilt Before County Deputy's Guns

Apprehension this week of two AWOL soldiers in Hondo brought the total to ten captured in Medina county by the sheriff or his deputies during the past two months. All have been stationed around the San Antonio area.

One group of four AWOL's gave the department a bit of trouble a few weeks ago. Speeding through town in a stolen car it took a few shots from the pistol of Deputy Hitzfelder to stop them. Gunfire by army personnel East of Castroville had had no effect a few minutes earlier.

"Those guns looked like cannons — they were too close," remarked one of the captives.

DDT FOGGING STARTS IN DOWNTOWN HONDO WEDNESDAY MORNING

Scenes reminiscent of the very best obstacle courses were noticed in downtown Hondo Wednesday morning, as N. C. Johnson took his DDT fog machine up and down the alleys.

Huge clouds of the white smoke-like fog billowed up, and passing airline pilots might easily have thought that Hondo was about to blow sky-high.

However, the only harm done has been to the insects which had been trying to make an honest living out of the garbage cans and waste heaps to be found in town.

Broomcorn Fields Expand When Swindler Uses His Own Rules

A unique swindling device and its operator were hailed into court last week and the swindler pleaded guilty to the offense of theft by false pretext, paying his fine, costs, and returning to the farmer $29.70 unlawfully obtained.

At least $29.70 is all he obtained unlawfully as far as anyone knows. As far as is known, the racketeer may have been running his little "business" for years and enjoying a very handy income therefrom.

Swindle was carried out by means of a very handsome steel measuring tape, and victims were the broom corn growers of the county. The tape line was built to measure 100 feet, presumably, and the numbers toward the end were very clear indeed.

At the beginning of the line, however, the numbers were hard to read and no one realized that the tape did not start in the conventional manner with 1 foot, 2 feet and so on.

Instead it started with 21 feet and proceeded on up to 100.

Broom corn is pulled by the acre row. The operator simply measured off "100 feet" and collected for that much. Such a pretty measuring tape couldn't lie. When the tape said 100 feet, it must be 100 feet, even if it was only 80 feet.

Unfortunately for the swindler, one of the farmers became suspicious last week after helping the swindler measure the rows. Going back later he remeasured the land and discovered the discrepancy, and reported to the authorities.

Local broomcorn growers have taken to using their own measuring tapes.

Services Held For Mrs. Gross Last Friday

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. last Friday, June 27, for Mrs. Rosa Z. Gross, 68, who died two days before at the Medina hospital of cancer. Rev. M. J. Lorfing officiated at the services held at the Horger funeral home.

The deceased was born Sept. 19, 1878, in New Mexico, daughter of J. Zuberbueler and Katherine, nee Heuser. Her childhood days were spent in Mexico in the state of Chihuahua where the family had moved some time after her birth.

In 1896 the family moved to Big Springs, Texas, and then to Dunlay in 1898 where she has lived since.

She was married to Adolph Haby, Jan. 14, 1902, and the couple made their home in Dunlay until moving to Hondo in 1940. Her husband passed away June 19, 1941, and on Oct. 18, 1945, she was married to Mr. Gross.

Survivors, in addition to the widower, include Mrs. William Burger of Dunlay, a sister; John Zuberbueler of Dunlay and Emil Zuberbueler of Comstock, both brothers, and many nephews and nieces. Four brothers and two sisters preceded her in death.

Pallbearers were Robert, Albert and Johnny Zuberbueler, Ulrich Burger, Henry Stiegler and Louis Gross, Jr. The deceased was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and a member of the Ladies Aid.

EAST VS. WEST FRIDAY AS HWY. 90 LEAGUE BATTLES ITSELF AT CASTROVILLE

With the top baseballers of Hondo, D'Hanis and Utopia pitted against the best from LaCoste, Castroville, Quihi and Rio Medina in the East-West All-Star game in Castroville scheduled for 3 p.m. on the Fourth of July, Manager Al Hollmig of the West All-Stars has listed his players and drawn up a probable starting lineup.

The league-leading Hondo Lions chose their candidates for the all-star game by popular election at a meeting last Friday night. Eight men will represent Hondo, seven will represent D'Hanis, and there will be four from Utopia.

Running down the batting order, Tommy Finger of Hondo will be lead-off man with E. Koch of D'Hanis standing by as a replacement. Harris Parsons will be at short-stop with J. Finger of D'Hanis on deck. Bonnard Rothe, D'Hanis manager, will hold down second base and Zerr of Hondo may replace him. Stan Hollmig will probably be on third and in the clean-up spot, with Utopia's Mauldin standing by for relief in the hot corner.

D'Hanis' H. Nester is marked for right field with another D'Hanis man, John Tondre, as a replacement. Hondo's Cliff Sadler will be on first and Amann of Utopia is his possible relief man.

In center field Porter of Utopia will start and Blanton Taylor of Hondo may do a relief job there if he doesn't go to the pitcher's box. Biry of D'Hanis is slated to catch with Hondo's H. Finger as alternate. Paulie Mueller will probably be starting hurler, and a deck will be Redding of Utopia, E. Finger of D'Hanis and Taylor.

No word has been received from Frank Keller, Castroville manager and boss of the East All-Stars, as to his squad members or possible starters.

Umpires for the big game will include Hondo's J. G. Barry who has been doing ump duty for Quihi, Hondo ump Charles Finger, Castroville's Howard Tschirhart and Zerr of D'Hanis. The umpires were selected by Alphonse Boog of D'Hanis, president of the Highway 90 League.

Arrival of the final 100 concrete street markers is expected this week and house numbers are now available at the Chamber of Commerce office, according to Sec. Man. Allen Webster.

Fifty one of the concrete markers, delivered two weeks ago, have been distributed around Hondo where they are awaiting erection. Placement of the incoming 100 markers and their consequent erection will put a street marker on every corner in Hondo.

The chamber is currently negotiating with various local men for the contract to stencil the names on the markers and erect them. It is expected that the contract will be completed by the end of next week.

In the meantime, Webster issued a plea that Hondoans come by the office to pay their share towards defraying the expenses of the markers. Cost is $3 for each residence, which goes toward paying for the markers, and the house numbers are given the property owner free.

All blocks and block numbers are marked off on a large map at the chamber office. Webster pointed out, so the property owners can easily tell what their house number will be.

2-Inch Rain Ups 6-Month Total To 10 Inches

A good soaking two and a third inches of rain made the weather newsworthy last week, breaking the dry spell in Hondo and, according to H. E. Haass, Cooperative U. S. observer in Hondo, coming as a lifesaver for most of the corn, broomcorn and other growing crops.

All other days during the period June 25-30 were clear, rainless and hot. Highest temperature recorded by Haass was a 98 last Sunday, lowest was 68 Tuesday night a week ago. Thunder, lightning and wind accompanying the big rain were the only natural phenomena to mar the hot tranquility of the first week of summer.

For the month of June rain fell on three days and on another, June 16, there was a trace. Rainfall was 0.04 on June 15, 0.36 on June 19, and 2.32 on June 24 for a total of 2.72 inches in the month. This brought the year's total, so far, to 9.99 inches.

Highest temperature recorded was 99 on June 19, lowest was 67 on June 15.

Highlighting the day's festivities will be a barbecue dinner, and games, refreshments and amusements will provide stamina and entertainment throughout the day.

Over $8,000 Collected For Paving Project

Over $8,000 have been deposited in the Hondo bank, collected from about 120 persons in the south half of Hondo, for the coming street paving project with the Northern half of the city still unreported according to a statement this week by Frank Vance, coordinator of the project.

Money already deposited represents only the property-holders share of the cost. The City of Hondo is to add a third of that amount to defray its part of the expenses.

Streets have not yet been surveyed to determine which ones will be paved or resurfaced, Vance said, pending receipt of funds and reports from the two chairmen of the Northern part of town, T. C. Barnes and Marvin Grell.

In order for streets to be paved or resurfaced, all property owners along that street must subscribe to the project, or at least for an appreciable distance, it was pointed out, since it would be impractical to pave in front of some property, skip some and then start paving again.

VFW Sponsors Crutch And Chair Lending Program

A wheel chair and set of crutches to be used in a lending program being sponsored in Medina County by the Hondo and LaCoste posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was scheduled to arrive in Hondo this week where it will remain on call for free service to any Medina County person who may be in need.

Idea of the lending program springs from a theory that such equipment should be available in the county seat of every county for free use of those needing it.

Use of the equipment can be secured by contacting Hondo Post Commander Clarence Haass in the Hondo Post Office. Five representatives of the program will tour the county selling magazine subscriptions to pay for the equipment. The five, Lewis Naylor, Paul Diegan, Pat Diegan, Robert Bruner and Lee Dial, will each carry letters of introduction from Commander Haass and Commander Parma of the LaCoste post.

Complete text of the bank's official statement follows:

Announcement was made today of the retirement from the Hondo National Bank of Claude W. Gilliam, who has sold his interest to W. F. Wallace of Corpus Christi.

Mr. Gilliam stated that, for some time, he had wanted to retire to his property near Utopia, Texas. He felt, after due consideration and investigation, that he could well afford to sell his interest in the bank to Mr. Wallace.

A man of large and varied experience, Mr. Wallace has spent approximately thirty-five years in the banking field. In the past, he has been associated with both State and National Departments of Banking, which, together with his experience as an executive and director in banks, equips him with wide knowledge of the needs and requirements of a bank's customers.

At present, Mr. Wallace is a director in several businesses, including the Victoria Corporation, First State Bank of Bishop, Commercial State Bank of Sinton, and the Port Compress Company of Corpus Christi.

After several trips of investigation and inspection of Hondo and the surrounding area, Mr. Wallace was thoroughly sold on the possibilities of this section. He says he hopes to give the bank a lot of his time as director and also to make additional investments in this vicinity.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors this week, the Board accepted Mr. Gilliam's resignation as President and director, but only after expressions of regret. A vote of appreciation was given Mr. Gilliam for his loyal service as President of the Bank.

The most recent statement of the condition of the Hondo National Bank, shows the bank's assets at over four and one-half million dollars.

No matter how well managed a flock of chickens may be, there usually are going to be a few culls among them.

These poorer birds, if allowed to remain within the flock, may eventually reach the stage where they are unmarketable — a total loss to the poultry raiser. Therefore, it is to the poultryman's advantage to keep close watch over his flock, to pick out birds that are going out of condition and take them to market early enough to gain some salvage value out of them. If culls are discovered while they are still in good flesh, they will usually bring a high enough price to pay for the investment you have in them, if not more.

A Common Error

Neglecting to do this is one of the common errors of poultry raisers everywhere. Often they are so pressed by other farm work that they feel they can't spare the time to examine their flocks periodically for birds that have "slowed down." In their own interests, every poultryman should devise some means to correct such a situation for it may make a great difference in the poultry income for the season.

Of course, weak or sick birds having flesh of poor quality should never be sold. Be doubly sure that the culls you sell will be acceptable as meat to the consumer.

Some of the defects to watch for are blindness; extremely pale or yellow head and face, hanging crop, baggy abdomen, and general listlessness.

Sell Non-Layers, Too

The same can be applied to the loafing layer. Poor layers cost nearly as much to feed as do the hens in full production and they give nothing in return. Detecting the non-laying hen is another job that may require close scrutiny and some time, but certainly it is worth the extra effort in view of the saving in feed.

Birds that stop laying during summer can be identified by their pale, dry, shrunken combs, yellowish beaks and shanks, and loss of feathers.

THE SWING OF TEXAS MARKETS

Fruits and vegetables showed general easiness last week, and some cattle prices dropped, but most other southwest farm products remained steady to strong, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Grains found generally good demand last week. Wheat, oats, and yellow corn stayed about unchanged. Barley, white corn, and old crop milo from South Texas came on the market at several cents per hundred lower than the old crop.

Milled rice stocks remained quite limited last week, and only scattered cars sold. Good rains throughout southwest peanut producing areas aided crop prospects. Rainy weather interfered with hay making but improved pastures and reduced demand for hay. Seven to ten million pounds of Texas wool sold in the past ten days. Growers received 42 to 45 cents per pound grease basis for average to good staple.

Daily ups and downs of cotton prices left quotations $1 per bale lower to $3.25 higher. Spot markets saw little trading. Crops looked unusually good in most areas.

Tomato prices dropped rapidly in East Texas last week. Late shipments sold mostly at $2 per lug box for 6 by 6 and larger sizes. Wholesale produce markets in the South and Central West showed weakness. Tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, and early apples particularly felt the bearish pressure.

Egg markets continued firm last

Vacuum Bottles Need Care, Picnickers Warned

Vacuum bottles and jugs are nice things for travelers and picnickers to have these days, but they need special care if they are to render the best service. Mrs. Florence Low, associate specialist in home management for the A. and M. College Extension Service, points out.

Ordinary dish-washing will not do for these containers because if they are put in water, the outside insulation may be injured. It is a better idea to fill the container with warm soapy water and soak for an hour or so. A soft bottle brush may be used. Finally, rinse with clear, lukewarm water and then with water containing a small amount of chlorine. Turn upside down to drain, dry and air. Scrub corks and screw tops with soapy water, then rinse and dry.

Here's a warning from Mrs. Low: Sudden changes of temperature may crack the glass in glass-lined bottles. Before filling a bottle with hot liquid, warm it gradually by rinsing first in lukewarm water and then in warmer water. Chill gradually before filling the vacuum with cold liquid.

Pasteurized and very cold milk may be kept in vacuum containers, if the bottle is well chilled. Mrs. Low says that cocoa or soup should be brought to a boil and poured into the container while still very hot. The bottle should be heated in advance. Foods of this type should not be kept in a vacuum bottle for more than an hour or two before using.

Schweers Family Has Annual Reunion

Four hundred members of the family plus a large number of invited guests were present last Sunday, June 22 in Castroville at Wernette Garden for the 14th annual reunion of the Schweers family. Mrs. Nora Gerdes served as general chairman of the affair.

Religious services were held in the morning with Rev. F. A. Banas of the New Fountain Methodist Church preaching. At noon a family basket lunch was spread. Songs and reports were part of the afternoons entertainment, and it was announced that during the past year that among the family members there had been 4 deaths, the same number of marriages, and 14 births. The infants were baptized.

One of the projects underlying for the coming year is the purchasing of one of the old family homes and making a place to hold the annual reunions and to house Schweers family relics. Next reunion day will be on the first Sunday in June of 1948. Frank Stiegler of Kansas City, Missouri was the family member coming from the farthest place for the annual meeting.

Duncan, Bohmfalk Rites Solemnized Sunday

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Leah Bohmfalk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Bohmfalk, to James N. Duncan son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Duncan, was solemnized Sunday in the New Fountain Methodist Church at 5:30 in the afternoon. Rev. Fred J. Brucks of Robstown, uncle of the bride, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and Marconi Daisies with fern used as a background. White tapers in bronze candelabrum flanked the altar, and were also used on the piano. A cousin of the bride, Miss Nettie Ruth Brucks, played traditional music throughout the ceremony and also served as accompanist to Rev. John Allen in his solo of "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white brocaded satin fashioned with a small high collar, fitted button front bodice, and long tapering petal sleeves. The bouffant skirt with soft pannier hip drapery was caught in the back forming a bustle. The court train was long and flowing. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a shirred poke bonnet also fashioned of the illusion. The bride carried a Colonial Bouquet of white carnations with an intermingling of blue agapanthus lilies.

Maid of Honor, Miss Gray Brucks, wore a powder pink dress with fitted bodice, circular tucks forming the neckline and sleeves, and a full skirt. Her Colonial Bouquet was of blue pompon asters. The brides other attendant, Miss Jeanette Roberts of San Angelo, wore a powder blue dress styled the same as Miss Brucks' and carried pink pompon asters. Both Miss Brucks and Miss Roberts are cousins of the bride.

ANOTHER ANVIL HERALD WANT AD HITS THE SPOT

TAKE THE AD OUT, I SOLD THE REFRIGERATOR. It isn't news to us here at The Anvil Herald office, but we thought you might like to know that another user of our want ads got results. Mrs. E. G. Pope advertised a refrigerator last week, and almost before she could get settled down to read her paper, someone came out and bought it.

If there is something around your house that you don't need, get rid of it. Someone in Medina county may want it, and they may come right over and hand you cash money for it. A want ad can be run for as little as 30c, and it's just like a telegram, so much a word. The more you tell, the more you sell.

DEVINE NEWS

By Mrs. J. P. Gregory

GREEN CORN SHIPPED

DEVINE — On account of the long dry spell only 26 cars of green corn were shipped out of Devine, but 109 cars of melons have gone out to date.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crain and children are post-carding their Devine friends from Evansville, Indiana where they are spending their vacation.

The Vocational Training Class with their teacher, Silas Grider spent last Tuesday at the Henry Van De Walle farm west of San Antonio where a demonstration of tractors was held. They enjoyed the day, especially the fine barbecue dinner.

Don Burton, Orville Smith and Gene Gregory of Devine and Bobby Crawford of Pearsall left Thursday in Gene's Ford to see the west. They plan to stop in Phoenix, Ariz. for a few days to visit Don's aunt, then on to Los Angeles and San Diego.

Here in HONDO

John Zerr, formerly a freshman professor at Texas A. and M. College, visited briefly in Hondo last week en route to Eagle Pass where he will teach in a Vocational Agriculture school.

The order for the goods has been accepted, and each person who placed an order will be notified when the satin arrives.

In the latter place they will be guests of Gene's sister, Mrs. L. L. Houle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Andrews are spending their vacation in Eudora, Ark., with their grand-son, John R. Andrews. The Andrews are teachers in the Devine system.

Henry Moss, Devine's Ag teacher was initiated into the Alpha Tau Alpha, a National Ag Fraternity in Kingsville last week. Mr. Moss is taking special work at A. and I. this summer.

Mrs. Fannie Tullos was called to Charlotte Wednesday on account of the death of her brother-in-law, E. J. Pruitt. Mr. Pruitt had been suffering from cancer several months. He was well known in this section and owned more than 1000 acres of land northwest of Charlotte. Wal president of the Bank. His widow survives. Funeral services were at Pearsall.

The Congregation of the Baptist Church is proud of the new seats recently installed at a cost of $2000 all given voluntarily by members of the church.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Bowen spent last week on an outing at Del Rio.

ONE STEP
can be FATAL!

12,200 pedestrians were killed by automobiles last year—1,340 more than the year before. Two out of every three violated traffic laws or committed unsafe acts which contributed to their deaths.

And believe it or not—many of these fatal accidents actually happened less than six feet from the curb—only a step or two from safety!

Between intersection accidents accounted for more than one-third of all pedestrian fatalities last year. These victims carelessly rushed out from behind parked cars, or simply jaywalked themselves into traffic—and death. Others even ignored the safety of lights and traffic officers at intersections to save a few seconds—and lost their lives.

Never take safety for granted. Cross at intersections within the crosswalks. Wait for the light or the policeman's whistle. Be alert for the inconsiderate driver making a right turn, or the reckless one beating a light. On open highways, allow for the speed of approaching cars. Walk to the left, facing traffic.

Whenever you cross, look both ways. One step can be fatal!

D'HANIS DROPS TO SECOND BEFORE LIONS HOMERUN BARRAGE, 14-1

D'Hanis dreams of a Highway 90 him to clout another. Just to show League pennant were nothing but it was no accident, Tommy clouted mangled wreckage by 4 o'clock last another over the same spot on the Sunday afternoon when the Hondo right field fence when he stepped Lions blasted out seven home runs to the plate in the next inning. and a deluge of base hits while Stan George Brucks lead off with a circuit run in the sixth, and Pitcher Stan Hollmig lead off with another in the seventh.

Tommy Finger was in his glory, hitting two homers in two consecutive innings, the fourth and the fifth, which accounted for a total of seven runs. Tommy added a single and a double for a robust showing in his six times at the plate.

Cliff Sadler, Hondo keystone, put the Lions ahead in the first inning with a two run homer off D'Hanis ace Ep Finger. Catcher H. Finger clouted another in the second with no men on, and only in the third inning was Ep Finger successful in holding the Lions scoreless. Tommy Finger's first homer came in the fourth, and Parsons stepped up right after

The Hollaway

That guy who flew in here last week in the Luscombe tried to act like he was an old-time pilot until we asked him how come he had a whole carton of Duz in the rumble seat.

"Oh," he sez seriously, "that's for prop-wash."

Incidentally, the prop-wash has been a little scarce around here this week as most of our pilots are preparing to go into their commercial flying training. Eight months of work—when.

But it spells luck for you — it means a new class will be starting up in about a week and YOU are going to get your chance if you call us up or drive out to see us right now. We don't have many vacancies, but we do have a few.

It's simple as A-B-C to learn to fly. It helps if you can add two and two, but you don't have to know plane geometry to fly one. For instance, anybody can figure out that you can't crash one of these babies when you realize that, with the engine dead, the things will glide 10 feet for every one foot they drop.

In case you don't deal much with that type of figures, try it out with this little demonstration: Hold the tip of one of your fingers one inch above the top of your table. Put another finger, (one on the other hand,) on the table ten inches away. Then move the finger that's in the air straight toward the finger that's on the table. That's how one of our Pipers would "crash" with a dead engine — only the engines never die. See what we mean? YOU can FLY!

until hearts have grown sick of hopes deferred, press despatches bring daily reports of devastating floods on the Missouri, driving people from their homes and destroying property. This is not a rare occurrence; in fact, it is an annual threat and differs only in the degree of severity. And on occasions, when the freshets on the Missouri, produced by the sudden melting of the winter snows in the Rocky Mountains, occur simultaneously with heavy rainfall over its water shed causing a flooded Ohio, the menace of flowing water reaches far down into the lower Mississippi valley.

Each recurring disaster, when the flood-waters find the weakest point in the dam and break their bounds, only demonstrates the fact that engineering skill has not yet found a sure means of confining flowing water; their best achievement is only a temporary expedient. Flowing water can only be confined just so long as the container can contain the incoming flood and stop the flow. Confined water is not flowing water; in dealing with it you are dealing with an inert mass. In dealing with flowing water you are dealing with one of nature's most powerful forces. When you fail to confine it you must deal with that force.

Therefore, to control flowing waters you must keep them flowing! And that's no Irish bull; it is a physical fact. And so long as more water flows down the Missouri channel, following the spring thaw in the mountains, than its channel can "contain" the uncontained will continue to wreck its ruin.

Mindful of all this no doubt, we once listened to a learned lawyer — not an engineer — who had given much thought to just what is happening now — a flooded Missouri valley and a vast more or less drouth-scoured plain stretching for miles and miles southward — outline a plan whereby a series of diversion dams on the upper Missouri could be made to turn the excess flow of water into a series of canals and artificial reservoirs and thus be made to water the entire plains country southward to the gulf of Mexico. At the same time that this outlet for surplus water was watering this vast area, it would be protecting the valley from floods in a measure that can never be achieved by the best system of levees.

Fantastic?
So it seemed to me at the time! But surely it is not half so impracticable as Roosevelt's blasted dream of a timber shelter-belt over parts of this same area where the sand will not lie still long enough for an acorn to sprout. Willows and perhaps cottonwoods would at least grow along the canal banks, and possibly there might be enough subsoil seepage in some areas to water even a shelter-belt sufficient to be of some benefit.

And why should not a nation that spent a billion to blow up one enemy city water the garden for millions of its own citizens?

"And a river went out of Eden to water the garden." — Genesis 2:10.

NEWS FROM NEIGHBORING COUNTIES AND COMMUNITIES

Texas papers listed below are used as news sources, and from them The Anvil Herald reports the news in other localities. Unless specifically attributed to another paper, views and opinions expressed below are those of The Anvil Herald.

NEVER GET RICH?

The song sez you'll never get rich digging a ditch, but Eagle Pass thinks differently, according to its News Guide. Four leading organizations of that city are demanding a new ditch, a lateral canal, to go through Fort Duncan park enabling beautification of the park and location there of new municipal recreation projects. This is to make E. P. a more beautiful city, which should lead to more prosperity.

SOMEONE TO TURN TO

Atascosa County has been without an H. D. Agent for many years. Last week's Monitor reports appointment of a new agent for the county, Mrs. Dula Bonds of Pleasanton, a home ec teacher, to help the county's ladies out with their homemaking problems.

JUST FOR A SNICKER

We'll relay this from the Bandera Bulletin:

An old lady walked into the judges office. "Are you the judge of reprobrates?"

"I'm the judge of probate," replied hizzoner with a smile.

"Well, that's it, I expects," answered the old lady. "You see, my husband died destitute and left several little infidels and I want to be their executioner."

LIFE'S PERILS IN SABINAL

Young Roger McCauley of Sabinal is running into many of the troubles of life at an early age. Recovering last week after falling from a chair and hitting his head on the baseboard in his home, resulting in several stitches, the youngster stuck his hand into his mother's washing machine wringer crushing a thumb and losing the nail completely.

Says the Sabinal Graphic, little Roger is feeling much better but "it isn't expected to stop him from experimenting with the more dangerous side of life."

BAPTISTS TO ALTO FRIO

Following an improvement spree amounting to about $60,000, the Alto Frio Baptist Encampment was expecting a record attendance of over 3,000 for its opening July 1, according to the Uvalde Leader-News.

MELONS MOVING

While Hondo, Devine and other nearby spots sweated out freight cars for watermelon shipment, Floresville and Poth were two places that had no such trouble.

Forty carloads left Floresville last week, 21 left Poth, and no one was crying for more cars on that day when new records were set. Prices there range from a cent a pound down to 75 cents per hundredweight, according to the Floresville Chronicle-Journal.

Meanwhile the Pearsall Leader reports 101 cars have been shipped from there up to last Wednesday morning but the car shortage is holding down shipments considerably. $1.35 and up per cwt. is being paid there.

WOOL OVER THEIR EYES

When it comes to sheepskins, folks up in Kerrville have got 'em, according to the Kerrville Mountain Sun. We don't mean college diplomas — we mean real sheepskins. Wool, that is. Since June 1 over 820,000 pounds of wool have been sold in the county at prices ranging from 40 to 51 cents. Still in the Kerr country, we note that building permits total almost half a million dollars for the first six months of '47, nearly topping the total for the entire year of 1946. Most of it is for residences.

Two Suits In District Court

Two cases were considered at the June 19 session of district court.

In the case of R. W. Rountree and Amy A. Rountree vs. E. M. Jungman and Lena Jungman on a suit to try title and for damages, Gerald L. Cooper was appointed receiver. He and reports to the court. The defendant was instructed to make proceeds of the business and receive book entries are permitted to operate the business under the receivership.

Plaintiff was granted a divorce with costs in the case of Victor Ybarra vs. Maria Ybarra in the second case considered.

Two new cases, Alma Goff vs. Ernest George Goff for divorce and Corine Dunn vs. Clinton Dunn for divorce, were filed with District Clerk Emil Britsch recently.

Downtown parking problems in Hondo get worse and worse on heavy-traffic days when county shoppers come in for their supplies. Hondo merchants are continually expanding their stocks and services and the business section itself is expanding until now nearly anything a shopper wants can be bought in Hondo at prices as good as can be found.

Shoppers can become mighty discouraged when they can't find a place to park without driving out to the residential district, even if it's only a few blocks.

One solution to the parking problem which would do a lot of good, although still far from a complete panacea, would be to put a time limit on the parking along Bandera Avenue, the newly designated Avenue M.

It would help the cause in eliminating the all-day parker from space that could be more advantageously used by the shopper. One hour parking along that street would provide just about enough of a turnover to give all the shoppers a chance at a good parking place close to where they will want to do their shopping.

Hondo's merchants could have no objection to such a plan, because it would be an additional service to their county patrons. A one hour parking law, to be in effect from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., business hours, along the street mentioned and possibly along North Front street, might make many county buyers happier about shopping in Hondo.

And while we're talking about Hondo, we wonder when we'll get around to putting a few benches in our parks and perhaps some crushed stone walks and a set of swings.

The point was brought up by a group of local young people last week and we had to admit it would do a lot to make Hondo a prettier town. Market Square should be the first place for such consideration. A square of land that serves no purpose except that of providing a short cut is doing the town little good. A few benches, shrubs, flowers and a couple of walks to preserve the grass would provide a welcome resting and chatting spot for many of our citizens.

It would also provide a nice spot for people to go for a short nap while waiting for the bus, since as we all know, there is no other place for bus travelers to wait.

High Traffic Death Toll Direct Fault of Individuals

While thousands of persons annually lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways, a curiously apathetic public continues to go its way, probably wondering what is the real cause for our high toll of traffic deaths, but never getting much further than the wondering stage.

If the truth were known, every driver and pedestrian would realize that he or she holds the secret to the cause or prevention of traffic accidents. The secret is the individual attitude of the driver or pedestrian toward accidents and toward general courtesy on the road. If the attitude is bad, then accidental deaths and injuries increase. If the attitude improves and the individual becomes more careful and courteous on the road, then thousands of lives can be saved.

Unfortunately, the problem of poor public attitude toward accidents — which may also be termed carelessness — is a problem that has to be solved by each single individual. It cannot be completely solved by mass hypnotism, regulation, or any other general device. All the efforts of today's safety and traffic experts in the three E's of traffic safety — Education, Enforcement, Engineering — are simply means by which poor attitude and carelessness on the part of the individual are minimized. In the final analysis, each individual must do his or her part if our national traffic death toll is to be wiped out.

For example, all the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of little avail if the individual driver persists in the attitude that accidents will not touch him and he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

Last year approximately 20 per cent of the drivers in this country involved in fatal automobile accidents were exceeding the speed limit. Another 6 to 8 per cent were exceeding safe speeds although they were traveling under the statutory limit, and still another 4 per cent were driving too fast for existing conditions where no speed limit was indicated. Fatal accidents where speeding was a cause were almost twice as numerous in cities as they were in rural areas.

Consider the statement: "Exceeding safe speed although traveling under the statutory limit." When a driver, entering a long, straight and broad stretch of smoothly paved highway, sees a marker indicating the speed limit to be, say, 45 miles per hour, he must consider the traffic engineers have set that limit as the correct speed for safe driving conditions. If it is raining and the pavement is slippery, certainly the limit of statutory speed is not the safe speed. If it is snowing, or the pavement is coated with ice, the safe speed is far below the legal speed.

The same is true if the road is crowded with holiday traffic. Hence, a driver can be considered speeding, especially in congested areas, when he is driving under 15 miles an hour.

Next to speed, 1946 nationwide figures show that driving on the wrong side of the road, including passing, is the most frequent traffic violation. Driving under the influence of alcohol is rated as the next greatest cause for traffic fatalities. Following these come a long list of minor, but obviously careless, violations such as failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic officer's signal or stop signs, improper turning. All are reckless driving. They can be avoided if each individual cooperates.

sion of driving privileges for traffic violations would, it is agreed, prove a great aid in creating a wholesome respect for safety rules and law enforcement. But self-discipline on the part of the driver is the most important factor to be considered.

No matter how excellent the mechanical condition of an automobile may be, no matter how ideal weather and road conditions may be, there is a point where they lose their effectiveness, because their mastery depends upon the judgement and control of the person behind the wheel. The most reliable safeguard against accidents is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for law enforcement and the rights of others on the highway.

BRAHMAN AND CHAROLLAIS COMBINED IN NEW BREED

Big, white and tick-free, a new breed of cattle combining the best features of the Brahman and Charollais has been developed in South Texas by two cattlemen near Weslaco, Fred Turner and Earl Thomas.

The new breed, second developed in that country are three fourths Charollais, the French work-beef-milk breed, and one fourth Brahman, the sacred cow of India.

"Putting one-quarter Brahman in the Charollais is like bacon grease to biscuits," Turner said. "It even improved the Charollais characteristics."

Turner said the best feature of the new breed is its rapid growth, with calves putting on 100 pounds a month on the range.

"Put aside from the growth, the Charbray is as good a milk cow as a shorthorn and will dress out 65 to 68 per cent beef," he said. Most beef cattle dress out 55 per cent.

Turner pointed to a chunky calf. "Look at that rump. The Charbray grows the high-priced cuts."

Both parent breeds are "skin breathers" and consequently can stand the hot climate of South Texas. The Charbray inherits this characteristic and because of it, is tick-free. Cattle ticks only bother the English breeds which have few skin pores.

Born a light tan, the Charbray usually bleaches out to a cream-colored white in a few weeks. The Brahman hump is bred out but the Charbray carries a slight hint of the Brahman dewlap, the loose skin under the neck. All Charbrays have horns.

"We're trying to prove the breed before setting up registry books," Turner said. "We've shipped cattle to Florida, the swamps of Louisiana, California and Oklahoma. All places report the breed doing as well there as here."

The only other breed developed in this country was the Santa Gertrudis, five-eighths Shorthorn and three-eighths Brahman, at Texas' big King Ranch. The Santa Gertrudis breed, a big red animal, is owned by the ranch which will not sell its females.

Turner and Wilson plan no such monopoly of their breed. "We want everyone to use the breed and besides we don't have enough land to

Editor's Corner

How fast is too fast?

The highway patrolman says it is any fraction over the speed limit set by law. If you drive 51 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, you're liable for arrest on a traffic violation charge.

Common sense, on the other hand, may not be so exact as to detail, but can be a lot more rigid regarding speed limits than the law requires the patrolman to be. Under certain conditions, like rain or ice-coated pavements, common sense will tell you that 15 miles an hour is too fast in a 50-mile zone. Common sense is your own personal speed cop and should ride with you at all times.

Safety experts point out that excessive speed is the greatest single cause for our great number of traffic fatalities — approximately a third of the total. Next in line comes driving on the wrong side of the road, followed by failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic signals, improper turning and a host of others. All of them, especially speed, can be lumped under one ominous heading: Reckless Driving.

The safety and traffic specialists have a three-pronged cure for reckless driving and its annual harvest of death and injury. By widespread public education in traffic hazards, by strict enforcement of sane and adequate traffic regulations and by installation of uniform and adequate traffic control devices, the annual toll of traffic deaths and injuries can be wiped off the slate.

Unfortunately, they point out, such a beneficent program is of little avail without the inclusion of a fourth element: Proper individual attitude toward safety. All the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of no use if the individual driver persists in the attitude that he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

The most important factor in accident prevention is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for the rules of the road and the rights of others.

A driver who was not breaking any law, and two passengers with him, burned to death in this inferno when a reckless overtaking motorist tried to pass their car where the way was too narrow. His engine rammed into the gasoline tank, setting it afire, and the car was knocked off the road, and over and into a field, where it quickly turned into a molten furnace. The lawbreaker himself was not injured — such is the irony of highway accidents. National Conservation Bureau safety specialists report that improper passing ranked fifth as a cause of motor vehicle deaths last year; most often it was combined with excessive speed which accounted for at least 8,000 fatalities.

HIGHWAY DEMOCRACY

Safety Tip Of The Week

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" ... It's 171 years since those words first were written, but the truths which our forefathers held to be self-evident are still mighty good working principles. Even our rules on safe driving are based on them.

Take the rule of right-of-way at intersections, for example. It might be stated in the words of Thomas Jefferson himself: "Equal rights for all — special privileges for none." "Equal rights" at intersections means obeying the traffic officer or the traffic light; if there is no signal, it means waiting one's turn; if there is any doubt as to whose turn it is, it means yielding the right-of-way. Last year more than 150,000 were killed and injured at intersections because someone claimed "special privileges."

Good highway democracy pays dividends in the life, liberty and happiness of everybody.

About a year ago, the United States planned to export 400 million bushels of grain to the needy people of foreign countries. By July of this year, 525 million bushels will have been shipped. The famine overseas still exists.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Picnic Was a "Hug" Success!

Our local Wild Life League went on a picnic Saturday, and I went along to cover it for the Clarion. Monday, folks kept stopping me, and saying: "Must have gotten out of hand, that picnic!"

"Nonsense," I says. "It was mighty pleasant and congenial. Just beer and hot dogs, cheese and cider." And then they show me the headline reading: "WILD WIFE PICNIC HUG SUCCESS."

Of course it was Elmer, my type-setter, who had made the misprints: But is my face red! It's only because folks are so temperate and well-behaved in our town, that they could afford to take the whole thing as a joke.

From where I sit, even a newspaper editor's entitled to a few mistakes. And since I reported that they served a moderate beverage like beer, I'm sure nobody thinks the picnic was the least bit wild, or anything but a huge success—and I mean huge!

Dear Sirs:

Saturday night, June 14 we saw Niagara Falls, under the flood lights, from the American side. Sunday morning we saw the Falls again and watched the Maid of Mist steamer passage to the foot of the falls. Then we went across to Canada and saw the American and Canadian Falls, the Horseshoe Falls and the rapids above the falls. From there we went to Toronto where we spent the night on Lake Ontario. There we saw parks and playgrounds on the beach and the capitol buildings.

Monday morning we got to Ottawa, the capitol of Canada, where we went through the Park drive and around the city. Then we went in the Canadian Parliament Buildings, thru the Memorial Chambers, the Peace Tower with its 53 corollan bells, which is Canada's tribute to her more than 60,000 war dead of 1914 to 1918, the House of Commons, the Senate Chamber and the Library. Then we went on to Montreal where we spent the night.

Tuesday morning we saw the seaport on the St. Lawrence River 1,000 miles from the sea, Place D'Armes, down town, Chateau de Ramegay, built in 1705, the wax museum, Miniature house of Count and Countess Phillippe Nicol, the richest midgets in the world, many cathedrals, and we also received our mail there. Then we went to Trois Rivières and Cap de la Madeleine, and on to Champlain where we spent the night.

Wednesday we got to Quebec, mostly French, and saw world famous shrine, Sainte Anne de Beaupre, the Montmorency Falls, Kent House, Sausla-Cape, narrowest street in N. America. Historic Citadel Chateaus Frontenac, the only walled in city in North America. Old Fort, Parliament Building of Quebec, and we made a wish in the Queen's Chair. We spent the night in Victoriaville, where only French is spoken.

Friday we got to Derby Line, Vermont and checked back into the United States. Then to St. Johnsbury, Vt. and to Lancaster and Gordane, New Hampshire. Then to Augusta, Maine where we spent the night.

Saturday we got our mail in Augusta and went to Portland and along the Atlantic coast to Beverly and Salem and on to Boston, Mass. for the night.

You can make a much bigger splash through the pages of the paper that reaches her every week—The Anvil Herald. It's the paper the women of Medina county read from front page to back page every week. And you can tell every one of them all about your business for less money than it takes to mail a post card to them — and The Anvil Herald never goes in the waste basket until the whole family reads it.
